

The Week's Editorials

Where are you reading this? In the subway? At home? In an office?

Look around you. Proven statistics show that one of every three Americans dies of heart and circulatory diseases—so some of the people around you will probably die of that ailment. So, for that matter, might you!

Happily, we don't have to sit and wait for heart disease to strike. We can take a fighting stand against it by supporting the fund drive of the New England Heart Association during February with all the money we can spare.

Don't take it lying down! Fight it with your dollars! The research, clinics and other services your contribution will help make possible may save a heart close to your own.

The strong sentiment for international peace in the United States is evident by the fact that practically every public official in the United States, when speaking about war, prefaces his remarks with an expression of the opinion that they do not expect war.

This is evidently an attempt by the leaders of the nation, and especially our military men, to avoid the stigma of warring. This is what the Russians call practically everybody who does not accept the Communist idea of a new world. It is an opinion frequently expressed by headline hunters in the United States, including many leaders of religious organizations.

There is no reason to blink at the fact that the nation is spending billions for preparedness because of the belief that there might be a war. If this belief does not obtain in official circles, there is no excuse whatever for the expenditure of $15,000,000,000 on our Army, Navy and Air Forces.

The people of the United States might as well understand now, as well as later, that international peace is delicately balanced. The Russians possess tremendous power in Europe and are showing striking success in the spread of Communist power in other regions. Whether the leaders of Russia are ready to gamble on war is a speculative question to which no one can give a certain answer.

Facing this uncertainty, the United States finds itself practically the only power in the world, financially able to build up the strength necessary to prevent the Russians from taking over the earth. Under the circumstances, it is the part of wisdom for this country to be thoroughly prepared for any war that may begin. It should not be necessary, in connection with this enterprise, to pay verbal tribute to the peace-mongers.

Let's face the facts and admit that the United States is arming itself on a tremendous scale for the sole and exclusive purpose of being ready to fight a war if the Russians begin it. To do anything else, under the circumstances, would stamp us as a nation of simpletons.

What Will Happen to Your Partnership Interest?

Your partnership interest may be your most valuable asset. You may be counting on it to protect your family's future. Have you taken steps to be sure that, in the event of your death, your family will realize its true value?

Every partner, in a general way, recognizes the merit of having an agreement to fix the price of his interest in the event of death, but frequently neglects to act until death has made it impossible.

Safeguard your family's future. Make certain that your estate will receive a fair price for your partnership interest.

In serving as executor for deceased partners we have helped to carry out partnership agreements. We have seen these agreements fulfilled to the great benefit of the deceased partner's dependents. This experience may be helpful to you when you work out plans to protect your partnership interest.

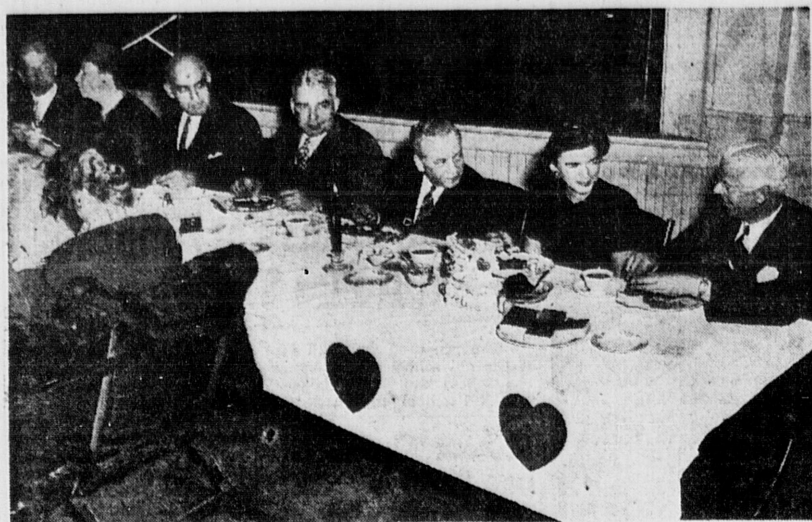

We would be glad to talk to you, your partners and your attorney about this matter at any time.

Among these have been contributions toward eye glasses, dental work, milk for lunches, bus tickets, and shoes. An outstanding investment in youth was the payment of the college entrance examination fee for a needy pupil who won a $2000 scholarship to a college as a result of the examination.

On her work as guidance counselor Miss Riley was in a position to learn the needs of pupils better than a class room teacher, and was instrumental in keeping the fund alive, especially during the depression years. It is therefore fitting that the fund should be strengthened in her memory.

"Remember There Is A Difference"

Trail Tales

by JOE PATENAUE

Remember that Indian snow ritual I told you about? Well, I tried it and we sure enough got snow—twice! Now I have to find a ritual to keep rain and heat away. I called New Mexico, but they are only interested in making rain.

Was pleased to hear last week that some Newtonites are skiing in spite of the lack of snow. Several groups have been to Canada and report the skiing is fine. Miss Billye Driben, of Driben's, just got back from a two week vacation at St. Agathe, P.Q., Canada. Miss Driben was enthusiastic about the wonderful skiing country up there, but was just as strong in denouncing the icy mountain roads. Her advice is to bring plenty of chains, or better yet, take the train.

It's a sad state of affairs when the inns in New Hampshire have to advertise square dancing instead of skiing. Mother Nature, how could you be so cruel? Surely the 1948-49 season will go down in infamy in the annals of skiing. Even though snow does cover the sacred ground of Newton, it sure is poor for skiing. But since this is the first real chance you've had, let's see you there this weekend, drifters and snow bunnies alike.

You may be interested to know that there are 67 ski developments in Massachusetts. This is rather surprising since the Bay State has always been overshadowed by its more mountainous neighbors.

To top it all off, conditions are as good or better in Mass., than anywhere in the East. The Mass. Development and Industrial Commission reported that it has received double last week's requests for snow conditions. Looks like Bay State skiers are making the best of what they have.

North Creek, N.Y., reports that snow starved skiers have invaded their slopes despite only fair skiing. An unusual attraction of North Creek is their Nursery Ski School where skiing parents can park their small fry in competent care, and do their skiing without worrying.

Since more snow is expected soon, inns and resorts have requested that skiers looking forward to a Washington's Birthday weekend make their reservations as soon as possible.

SKI JUMPS: Bob Johnson and company will soon have Commonwealth worn out. Still time to catch part of Pittsfield City Winter Carnival this weekend. See you next week, when I hope there'll be more snow, and thus more action to tell you about.

Girl Scouts-

cal Council of Girl Scouts is a Red Feather Agency supported by the Community Chest but receives from the Chest no funds for physical equipment and improvement of its camping sites. The goal set for the 1949 sale by the Committee is $2700.00. The money raised will be divided according to need between Camp Mary Day, Quabbin Day, Camp and Troop Camping. Individual troops will also benefit.

This week each Village Cookie Chairman will hold an organization meeting in her village. Attending will be a Cookie Chairman from each troop in the village to receive detailed information concerning the sale. During the week of February 7, these troop cookie chairmen will visit their troops and explain the sale to the girls. Each girl will receive a letter to take home to her parents explaining in detail the purpose and rules of the sale.

The Cookies are the same as last year, creme-filled sandwich cookies packed 24 to a box, 12 vanilla, 12 chocolate, stamped with the Girl Scout emblem. They are made by the Burry Biscuit Company, and are attractively wrapped and well-packed to insure freshness. The cookies will sell for 40c a box, a real value. They may be ordered from your neighborhood Girl Scout during order week, February 16 through 28. Deliveries of the cookies will be made during the week of March 21-26, and at that time money for the cookies will be collected.

A special price of $9.00 a carton is being offered to all organizations and clubs. Any groups interested in placing orders should contact their village cookie chairman.

The Cookie Sale Committee is calling attention of the public to the sale through the use of posters, a letter to parents, newspapers, window displays and our local radio station WCRB. The Newton Girl Scout "Cookie Sale for Camping" will permit better camping for your neighborhood Girl Scout.

Robert Patrick, Assistant Scout Executive of the Norumbega Council, will be in charge of swimming classes for life saving and swimming merit badges to be held at the Newton Y.M.C.A. starting Feb. 9.

Blizzards or Blisters?

The weather is not usually a subject worthy of special mention, but this year the messenger of sun and snow merits a little attention. Patrons of Newton are worn out exchanging sunglasses, galoshes for sun-glasses. As Mr. Harry Driben, of Driben Footwear in Newton Centre, said, "We are selling boots and beach shoes hand in hand." In fact the kids have been stampeding his store for sneakers (could be they think 'tis spring). The kids had a hard time finding sneakers at first, and the demand got so great that Driben had to put in a huge new stock, and in February at that!

That's the way it's been all year. It looks like ice skating today, but tomorrow puddles greet us instead of sleek, smooth ice. Even Ol' Man Weather is making fun of this great big confused world.

Gordon Sneath of Waban was home last week-end from Yale where he is in his senior year.

The Party Line

All the large operators in the political reporting field are currently presenting their analyses of last November's Republican Waterloo. So, such being the order of things, we have a few angles which our readers might be interested. Staying entirely away from straight figures, it is amazing to say the least, to realize that our Senatorial district is gradually slipping away from the Republican grasp. In fact, Bradford just carried the district by a hair. Brighton, although containing a greater number of Republicans than would appear, went strong for Dever. Cambridge showed the same trend which, however, could be excusable to some degree when we consider that Paul Dever is a Cambridge man and would naturally pick up a sizeable number of votes cast out of local pride.

Sober consideration and much thought should be given by not be in the too distant future that a strong Democrat will be our local Republicans to the picture that presents itself. It will be able to give our Republican nominee for Senator a terrific battle. Newton is in the same condition that Waltham was ten years ago. At that time, the trend went decidedly toward the Democrats. In the last election, this district went for Dever. It could be that if our Democratic brethren had been a little more alert, there would have been nineteen Republicans in the Senate.

The foregoing facts should be given a serious and widespread publicity through our local ward committees. Unfortunately, they do not function in a serious businesslike manner. Other cities, not only Newton, have had a lot of trouble in co-ordinating ward and city committees. Legislators and other office holders have gotten away from the committees which themselves have become tight little cliques made up of old time families and heavy financial contributors. Each office holder has meanwhile built up his own little machine whose prime purpose is to re-elect its chief and the situation now develops that the local committees are complaining that no one ever pays any attention to them. Perhaps each argument has its merits and the old system should be revamped. Newton is a good example of the situation where certain office holders have built up their private machine. In this instance, it being the city committee. It is worthy of debate whether or not a legislator should be chairman of the city committee.

There are office holders in the city, and there have been in the past, whom the city committee has shunned completely. This attitude certainly cannot add to the solidity of the party. Our number one example of the foregoing is ex-Mayor Childs. While he was Mayor, he was never welcomed to the city committee. That is not unusual, because theoretically, Newton city politics are nonpartisan. However, after he left City Hall and became County Commissioner, he was still completely out in the cold. The result, Mr. Childs was forced to build up an entirely different group of workers and followers which, as he left the "Public Eye" side of office holding, gradually disintegrated. People are still shaking their heads in wonderment and mumbling "What could have happened to Ned?" Perhaps a little humility would have gone a long way toward continuing Ned Childs as a County Commissioner.

I wonder if anyone else feels the same way we do concerning Washington Street. This fine concrete street, which was built to last a lifetime, is becoming like a patchwork quilt, from people digging up the concrete pavement. Perhaps concrete cannot be replaced, but the effort to do so would certainly be justified rather than leaving the street full of sunken macadam traps.

Oriental Rugs To Be Subject of Talk

Oriental Rugs and the Stories They Tell will be the subject of a talk by Arthur T. Gregorian at the next meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club. Mr. Gregorian, rug dealer and lecturer, is a leading authority in his field. He was born in the northwestern part of Iran, but is Persian by birth only as his ancestors were Armenian. NEWTON QUOTA for the 1949 Red Cross Fund Campaign has been set at $91,570.00. The quota was announced last week at a meeting of the Residential Committee by Mr. Douglas B. Francis, general chairman of the Red Cross drive which takes place here February 27 through March 31. The $91,570.00 shows a slight increase over last year's collected amount, because of a rise in cost to the Red Cross in meeting its commitments to veterans and active service men and in meeting the Blood needs of Newton citizens. This Blood Program has been undertaken at the request of hospitals and medical profession. The meeting was conducted by Miss Adelaide Ball, chairman of the Residential Committee. Miss Ball is secretary of the Newton Chapter and also vice-chairman of the Volunteer Services of the Newton Red Cross. She is president of the Family Service Bureau, a member of the governing board of the Newton Community Council and a past president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs.

Party Manners for pleasant party lines

It pays to be poised. Party line neighbors are quick to respond to those who are calm and collected when they ask for the line in an emergency. By sharing courteously, everyone benefits... and party line service is smooth.

It's good to be gracious. When a series of calls must be made, it's nice to remember the others on the line by allowing time between calls. This, too, helps give all party line neighbors their fair share of service.

A NOTE to all party line users

As a general thing, party line service is good enough to meet the requirements of most party line users.

Right now, however, many people who would normally have individual service are on party lines — because this is the only way in which we could supply telephones to the thousands who have asked for new service in the past three years. We are bending every effort to speed the day when we can provide individual service — or lines with fewer parties on them — to fill all present orders.

In the meantime, won't you remember that party line service is largely what you make it. We'll do our best to handle your calls smoothly and efficiently. But, in the long run, the quality of party line service depends a great deal on how it's used.

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE & TELEGRAPH CO.

It's polite to be prompt. Answering the telephone as quickly as possible shows consideration for the person who is calling. Telephoning at "off peak" hours — in the middle of the day, or evenings after 8 — is also appreciated.

Scout "Family" Finds Adventure

"Adventure" — That's Scouting

The nation's 2,200,000 Scouts and leaders are observing the 39th anniversary of their organization from Feb. 6 to 12. In each of the programs for boys of different age groups, depicted above in the Scout emblem, are found countless opportunities for fun, fellowship and high adventure in the out-of-doors.

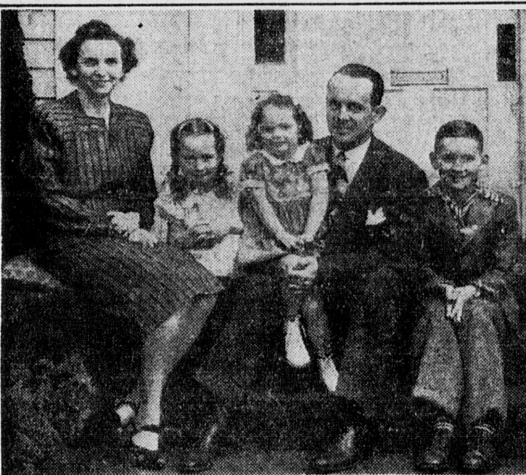

"BOYS WILL BE BOYS," THEY SAY

But we're sure you'll agree they'll be better, friendlier, happier boys if they're in the ranks of the Boy Scouts of America. For 39 years, the Boy Scouts have made an increasing contribution to a better America through a well-planned, up-to-date program to meet boy's interests.

It's a program of adventure that appeals to every boy, when he knows about it. And there's the rub.

Many a boy of 12 or over still needs to be informed of the exciting activities of Scouting. Many a parent needs to discover the values of Scouting for his boy. Many an adult needs to find out the enjoyment to be derived from helping boys find themselves through Scouting. Many a civic institution should look into the merits and advantages of sponsoring a Troop of Boy Scouts.

For these reasons we're taking the opportunity—during Boy Scout Week—to fulfill our obligation as an information-medium, by reminding you of your responsibility to the boys of America—the Men of Tomorrow!

Judge Myles Speaks At Rotary Club Mon.

The Rotary Club speaker, Judge Franklin W. L. Myles, was introduced by the Hon. Ted Lockwood at the meeting on Monday. Judge Myles is justice in the largest and busiest district court in Massachusetts, having a special interest in juvenile delinquency. He is also a citizen of Newton.

Judge Myles spoke very interestingly about juvenile reform schools in Massachusetts and the trend and changes he has seen in delinquents. He pointed out that it is not a new problem, nor does he expect it to be remedied in the near future. The cause is not necessarily an individual influence such as street corners, comic books, night clubs, radio and movies. The influences for good, he reminded us, are the church, both dad and mother in the home, the school teacher, the social worker, psychologist, Big social worker, psychologist, Big clubs and Scouts.

If You Own Property Jointly with Another

Where husband and wife or any two or more persons hold property in certain forms of joint ownership, they get the benefit of attractive legal and practical advantages.

Yet, taxwise, joint ownership may be costly. The death of one joint owner may force the survivor to pay heavy estate tax assessments or capital gains taxes. The creation of joint ownership sometimes involves a Federal gift tax.

If you have entered into joint ownership without finding out what tax liabilities might result, check with your lawyer now. Joint ownership may be advantageous for you; on the other hand it may be costly. Your lawyer can tell you.

The above message is offered as a service to the community in the interests of up-to-date wills and sound family planning. We are authorized to act as your executor and trustee. For information about this service, see an officer of our Trust Department.

—If you want to kill your wife with curiosity, simply clip a brief item before you hand her the day's newspaper.

This is it, ski fans! Winter starts this weekend. Button up your jackets and get ready for four or six weeks of real rough winter, which will mean plenty of skiing right into spring. Where do I get my information? Why, ye ol' Farmer's Almanac, of course! Don't laugh because the almanac is surprisingly accurate. It had this winter tagged much better than the regular Weather Bureau did. Must be they have a better crystal ball.

That isn't the only good news—Quite a few places in Vermont and New Hampshire got snow last week and skiers were out in number. Stowe, Vermont reports it had its biggest week of the season and is looking forward to bigger and wetter weeks as more snow is promised.

When the employees of the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company of Boston leave for their annual ski trip, they can thank Mr. John O'Brien of 8 Taft avenue, West Newton, for making the arrangements. Mr. O'Brien is chairman of the Ski Train and Winter Carnival Committee, which is planning the trip. Sounds like an idea that many more firms could copy. A winter holiday is just the thing for rest and relaxation, and when you get back to the office, you're just full of pep and rarin' to go. Looks like a good deal for employees and employers alike.

SKI JUMPS: This is a slim week folks, but next week I hope to have lots of news and interesting Newton items to relate to you. Just hold on a little longer 'cause the skiing weather is just around the bend.

Newton Highlands Garden Club

The Newton Highlands Garden Club will hold its regular meeting at the Work Shop, Columbus street, Newton Highlands, on Thursday, February 17, at 8 p.m. Mrs. Ward I. Cornell will speak on "Garden Planning." Dried flowers will be featured in the arrangements.

FROM ELECTRIC LIGHT... TO ELECTRONIC SIGHT

His genius still shows the way!

Add another to the long list of modern miracles made possible by the genius of Thomas Alva Edison. His inventions gave the world not only electric light, but also the phonograph... the motion picture camera... the radio microphone... and home electric service. Each of these in turn contributed to the creation of the miracle of electronic sight — television!

Your Boston Edison Company — this month marking its sixty-third anniversary of service — honors today the 102nd anniversary of the birthday of this great American whose God-given talents enriched the world.

BOSTON EDISON COMPANY

The Party Line

Boston politics seem to be getting worse as the years go by and it's getting so that an honest man might as well leave town rather than try to institute any progressive changes in the City Government. This latest bit of chicanery of keeping Plan E off the ballot by controlling the printers, does very little to endear James Michael to the hearts of anyone who believes in fair play. The latest report from the Newton Plan E Committee is that the folks comprising the leadership of that organization are going to renew their fight this year to bring about a streamlining of our City Government. This Government of ours has been referred to as Town Meeting form of government. That is no misnomer. Plan E would bring to us a modernization, which is just what this city needs. The greatest contributing factor in the defeat of the plan two years ago, was the solidarity of the Board of Aldermen. When the Board is acting unanimously, it is the most powerful group in the city. Even though there are only twenty-one men, they all work three to a ward to not only put their own aims across, but also those of their pals on the other side of the city. The result is a trading of loyalty that is the most difficult thing to beat. This point was brought home very sharply on Monday night, when after the Planning Board, which is a non-paid technical board, had advised against such a move, the Board bowed to the lobbying of a neighborhood group led by an Alderman, his wife and daughter, and rezoned property against the owner's wishes. Now, under a Plan E form of Government, where no member of the City Council would owe his allegiance to any backyard group, a citizen would be more secure in his property rights. Plan E has been referred to, by the people of Newton, as a good thing for Boston. A close examination will warrant some consideration of a little bit of the same stimulant for Newton.

Those in the city, who have been striving for better recreational facilities for our youngsters, would do well to keep a sharp eye on the present proposal of the Metropolitan District Commission to permanently close all bathing places along the Charles River. The M.D.C., since its inception, has been battling sewage pollution in the Charles River, and now in a report soon to be released, is about to abandon their efforts to stem the overwhelming tide of corruption. In place of the old swimming hole on the Charles, there will be park pools located in various sections along the river on Commission owned land. The number of pools, and whether or not Newton will have one, will depend upon the appropriation allowed and Governor Dever's generosity in the placement. Perhaps the Governor might see fit to let Newton have a pool. Who knows? It wouldn't hurt, however, for a few people who believe in juvenile recreation, to urge upon their representatives the need for clean, fresh water for the kids whom nobody takes to the beach during the summer time.

Warning! Warning!

Denis W. Delaney, Collector of Internal Revenue, has just issued an important word of advice to taxpayers who hope to receive prompt refunds on their overpaid taxes for 1948. In spite of the innumerable instructions that the Withholding Statement (Form W-2) may not be used as a return but must be attached to either the forms 1040A or 1040 as evidence of amounts of tax withheld, more than 1000 of these W-2's are being mailed each day to the Collector's Office at 141 Milk Street, Boston. Withholding Statement (Form W-2) does not constitute a proper return and cannot be processed for a refund until either Form 1040A or Form 1040 is properly prepared and filed. The Collector stated that many weeks or months may elapse in correspondence with taxpayers before refunds can be made where forms W-2 have already been filed as a return.

Other difficulties confronting the Collector's Office are the receipt of literally thousands of returns with insufficient information, illegibly written, without any signature or with only one name signed on joint returns or, not accompanied with Form W-2. With the prospect of having nearly two and one half million returns to process and record in the Mass. Dist., it is readily seen that delays are inevitable whenever carelessness or negligence is shown on the part of a taxpayer in preparing his or her return.

Taxpayers should first: select the proper form on which to file either 1040 or 1040A in accordance with instructions; second: see to it that all forms W-2 (wage slip) are attached to the return that will reconcile with the entries of salaries or wages shown thereon; third: write or print clearly, answering every question on the return that pertains to your income or depend-

Auburndale Garden Club

The February meeting of the Auburndale Club will be held Monday, Feb. 14, in Library Hall at 2:30 p.m. The guest speaker is to be Mr. Paul Dempsey of the Waltham Field Station, who will lecture on the "The Effects of Depleted Soil on Our Food".

Mr. Dempsey, a native of Newton, studied for his career at Massachusetts Agricultural College, now known as the University of Massachusetts. He has served for thirty years at the Waltham Field Station as field superintendent and is now head of that institution. Many articles and books on the subject of horticulture have come from the pen of Mr. Dempsey.

The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Guernsey Camp, Mrs. Willard Bodge and Mrs. Louis Paddison. Mrs. Franklyn Hoyt, president of the club, will preside. Flowers will be arranged by Mrs. Richard Kenney.

Saturday, February 12, at 1:30 p.m. has been designated by Dwight R. Robison, Acting Boys' Work Secretary of the Newton Y.M.C.A., as the first father and son afternoon. It is strictly a father and son affair and to take part in the activities a boy member must bring his father or a close adult friend.

The program starts with a splash in the swimming pool from 1:30 to 2:15 p.m. From 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. there will be motion pictures and from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. a program of billiards, checkers, pool, and table tennis is planned.

RECENT DEATHS

Mary J. Webber

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Mary J. Webber, beloved wife of the late Dr. Frederick W. Webber and mother of Mrs. George E. Rath. The service will be held in Story Chapel at Mt. Auburn Cemetery in Cambridge Wednesday, February 16, at 10 a.m. The interment will follow the services.

William F. Shinnick

Funeral services for William F. Shinnick of 22 Mague Avenue, West Newton, were held Saturday morning from the Thomas J. Lyons Funeral Home, 1479 Washington Street, West Newton. A high mass of requiem was celebrated in St. Bernard's Church by Rev. John A. Saunders. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham, with prayers by Rev. Robert E. Brennan.

Present at the mass was a group of nuns from St. Peter's Convent, Dorchester. Delegates were also present from the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters and the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway.

Mr. Shinnick died on February 1 following a long illness. He was in his 63rd year and was born in West Newton, the son of Timothy and Bridget (Tobin) Shinnick. He was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters. For several years before retiring five years ago he had been employed as a bus driver with the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway.

Katherine A. Jones

Funeral services for Mrs. Katherine Augusta Jones, former concert pianist and patron of music and musicians, were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 at her home, 40 Beacon Street, Chestnut Hill.

Mrs. Jones died on Friday, February 4. She was in her 84th year and was the widow of Richard Hamlen Jones, a court reporter in Boston for 45 years. Born in Buffalo, N. Y., she was graduated from St. Agnes' School in Albany, N. Y., and later studied music in Dresden, Germany, and in Paris, France, where she was under the tutelage of Francois Thome, head of the piano department of the Paris Conservatory. Following her studies in Europe she gave concerts in London and in Paris.

On her return to Boston she studied with Edward McDowell, composer, and then concentrated on instructing and helping others in personal concert appearances. Motorists Warned By Chief Purcell

Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department pointed out that many serious accidents occur at intersections with traffic lights.

"Roadway observation, as well as statistics," the Chief stated, "indicate that too many of our motorists try to 'beat the light' when approaching traffic control signals."

"This is a very dangerous habit," he continued, "not only for the offender but for the motorist who begins to move with the cross traffic on a green light."

"Approach a light prepared to STOP and avoid danger. A little extra care will have a good effect on cars behind you and will eliminate many rear end collisions which follow attempts at sudden stops."

"All you have to do is take it easy," the Chief concluded, "drive as you would have the other fellow drive, using courtesy, caution, and common sense."

Maj. Sullivan Chief Of Records Branch

Major Charles H. Sullivan, brother of Mr. W. E. Sullivan, 50 Broadway, Newton, Mass., was recently appointed as the new Chief, Records Branch, Adjutant General Records Depository at Headquarters, Philippines Command in Manila.

Holder of the Philippine Military Merit Medal, Major Sullivan has been overseas since July 1945. Prior to his latest appointment he was assigned as investigator for the Legal Section, SCAP, Manila Branch.

THE CENTRAL IDEA

When a Boston & Albany brakeman says he "puts down his guns"—he doesn't mean firearms. He means track torpedoes.

Generations of brakemen have been clipping these little red torpedoes to the rails whenever their trains made unscheduled stops. The next train along sets off the torpedoes with a loud report—warning the engineer to proceed with extra caution.

Perhaps it seems strange to you that torpedoes still bang out their warnings along New York Central's modern rail network—where many newer safeguards are on the job. For example, the block signals that set themselves the instant a train passes. Or the wonderful automatic train control that would actually apply the brakes and stop the train if an engineer should fail to act on a caution or stop signal.

Yes, there are many more modern guardians of the rails than the little torpedo. But here's the point. Once a safety device has shown its worth, the Railroad may add new safety measures... but it's pretty sure to retain the proven and traditional one as well. Because SAFETY IS THE "CENTRAL" IDEA!

It Is A Sound Insurance Bill

Senate 44 filed by Senator Richard H. Lee of Newton again raises the question of merit rating for compulsory automobile insurance.

At the present time, Massachusetts car owners are forced to carry personal injury insurance. The rate has no relation to the safety record of the individual owner. It is based wholly upon the safety record of the community in which his car is garaged. For this purpose, the cities and towns of Massachusetts are divided into 17 classes. Chelsea and Boston, with the poorest safety records, are charged $60.40 and $57.50, respectively, for 1949. On the other hand, owners fortunate enough to keep their cars in Dennis, Becket and in some other lucky towns are charged only $16.50 for the year.

Speaking roughly, citizens of Greater Boston pay an average of about $44.00 for the privilege of keeping their cars in the metropolitan area. A striking example of the discrepancy can be found in Mattapan where owners on the Boston side of the Milton line pay $57.50 for their insurance while the man across the street in Milton pays only $24.70, a difference of $32.80, regardless of the individual accident record.

Last year saw over 1,200,000 cars registered in the State, an all time high, and more automobiles are being put on the market every month. This congestion of the highways is apt to accentuate the difference between these geographical classifications.

The Lee Bill proposes a basic rate for car owners who have not been responsible for accidents or traffic violations during the past three years. It would have the Insurance Commissioner fix an intermediate rate for drivers who have been responsible for minor accidents or violations during the period, (this rate can be up to 100 percent higher), and a high rate for persons whose cars have caused fatal injuries, or who have been guilty of serious violations during the three year period. It is a well established fact that there is a class of accident prone drivers who have more than their fair share of accidents. The purpose of the statute is to put the burden on this class for the heaviest insurance rates.

It is impossible to determine precisely what the rates would be for a future period, but it can be estimated that the basic rate might be in the vicinity of $30.00, with a $60.00 rate imposed upon moderate offenders and a $90.00 rate upon serious offenders. The system would, however, put such a premium upon careful driving that it might reasonably be expected to reduce the basic rate even further in years to come.

It is a sound insurance principle to consider the merits of each individual case. Lower fire rates are given to the householder who has a brick house, a sprinkler system and is near a hydrant. In life insurance their premium is based upon the age and physical condition of the individual policy holder.

Critics of the Lee Bill admit that it is sound in principle but express the fear that it will be difficult to get the necessary statistics or to figure out the rates. Of course figuring rates is a complicated statistical problem but nothing could be more complicated than the division of Massachusetts into 17 territories, based on a community accident record. It would be entirely practical for the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to obtain from the courts a record of all operators found guilty of traffic violations or of negligence leading to the award of damages. It would be a simple matter to require each applicant for insurance to state in what accidents or violations his car had been involved, and in case of doubt the court records could be referred to for confirmation. In 1948 the Registrar tabulated over 32,000 violations of traffic laws, 2,200 of them being of a serious nature. Insurance companies recorded a somewhat similar number of damage claims paid resulting from accidents. Many of these are duplicates, both civil and criminal actions arising out of the same accident. We might estimate the total of reported infractions to be about 35,000 in 1948. Driving records for 1947 and 1948 would also be used in making up a three year base, but many of them would be found to involve the same people. A conservative estimate might set the total of owners for the intermediate rate at 70,000 and thus for the high rate at 5,000.

Baker of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and prominent Unitarian minister whose home is in Wellesley Hills, speaking last Thursday night, before the West Newton Laymen's League at the parish house of the First Unitarian Society in Newton.

Dean Baker stressed the need of a broader viewpoint and a new concept of religion for these college students, based on the broad scientific knowledge they are acquiring. About 54 men and boys attended this annual Father-and-Son buffet banquet, to which the Newton Center Unitarian Church members of the Laymen's League were also invited. Dads brought their boys and as special guests, a dozen boy members of Robert H. Plans Announced For New Williams School Building

The Newton Building Department is advertising this week for proposals for the construction of a new school building to replace the Williams School in Auburndale, the construction of which was interrupted by Government restrictions prior to and during World War II, and for the construction of an addition to the Franklin School built in 1939 of a four class rooms and a playroom unit. These are the first two of the several school projects for which Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood has recommended appropriations for plans and specifications.

The building will replace the present Williams School, a two-story structure with lower floor of brick and second story of wood frame construction. The site is land on Grove street, abutting the present school lot, containing about 65,000 square feet.

The building will be modern in design, two stories in height, of light-colored brick, and of fire-resistant construction. The approach to the front entrances is by a paved driveway so that cars can discharge or pick up children on the school lot away from the street traffic in inclement weather.

The only space being utilized below grade is that for boiler room, meter room, and janitor's room. The remaining space below grade serves as a pipe space. The boilers will be oil-fired with underground oil storage. Unit heaters force warm air under the floor of the

TB Patients Are Restored To Normal Living At Hospital

The occupational therapy shop at the Norfolk County Hospital, Braintree Highlands, is writing a successful page in the history of rehabilitating tuberculosis patients, under the Norfolk County Health Association's rehabilitation director, Cornelius C. Smith.

These afflicted men and women, who at one time might have been doomed, cooperate in a prolonged discipline of rest and recovery — until the day dawns when the attending physician pronounces them ready for the gradual process of building up work tolerance.

The United States spends one hundred million dollars each year to maintain ninety thousand beds in tuberculosis sanatoria. Citizens of the United States, in many instances, voluntarily supply, through funds obtained from the Christmas Seal Sale, the all-important rehabilitation programs for those afflicted.

The rehabilitation activities of these men and women, combining as they do with medical treatment, have been found to be of great importance. They no longer must lie in bed facing weeks and months of total inactivity.

Under the training and equipment supplied by voluntary funds, patients' fingers soon become nimble at the delicate art of fashioning jewelry, for gifts and for sale to their friends or the public. The creative urge gets release through beautiful woods shaped and turned into lamps, book ends, and household gifts and gadgets of many kinds. Skills are acquired in printing, dressmaking, leather work, and other handicrafts.

Above all, the patient's mind is absorbed in the work of his choosing. Through the rehabilitation services in vocational guidance and aptitude testing interest has been captured, energies given an outlet, and the convalescent is freed from the depression that overtakes the person forced to remain in idleness.

At the Norfolk County Hospital, under the direction of Cornelius C. Smith and his assistant, Miss Doris Tuttle, tools, machines and instructors, provided by Seal Sale funds, are at hand for ambulant patients. The latest shop to be outfitted by the funds contains a drill press, lathe and band, scroll and circular saws, a joiner, buffing wheel — and tools for silver soldering.

All work is done under the medical supervision of doctors at the hospital, the occupational therapy serving the two-fold purpose.

Both branches of the General Court started late this year, because of the bickering who shall and who shall not be President of the State Senate. Until one is elected both branches cannot function.

It has been an exciting week as the committees start to work on their hearings. Two thousand and five hundred bills have been filed in the General Court. The procedure in this State has been that all bills shall be given a hearing before their respective committees.

The most interesting bill before the Legislature this week was H. No. 378 by Richard H. Long, director of the Massachusetts Social Security Association, Inc. He asks that an annual pension of $600 for all citizens of the Commonwealth over 60 years of age be paid. This, he says, will require about $8,500,000 per year. He believes the money should come from increasing corporation taxes. Former Senator Edward Rowe of Cambridge spoke in favor of this bill, stating it was up to the Committee to pass the bill and later try to raise the money, which was their job.

Tuesday was rather an exciting day. Governor Dever addressed the Joint Session of both houses. The highlight of the ceremonies held was the formal presentation of the Revere Bowl to the Museum of Fine Arts by Governor Dever. Mr. Mark Bortman, 45 Moreland Avenue, Newton Centre, was the prime wheelhorse in obtaining this Bowl for the State. Representative Roy Smith, pose of building up work tolerance in the patient and determining his aptitude for work that is not strenuous.

Before the day arrives for each patient, when the physician pronounces him ready to take up a type of occupation suitable to his physical condition, the rehabilitation funds are fulfilling needs, supplying interests and diversions. Music from the large library of records is broadcasted through the hospital. The library book cart is wheeled to the patient's bed, and he may choose fiction, biography, or a definite line of study.

When the doctor pronounces the patient ready, he may enter the print shop and learn the various arts and skills connected with printing; or he may join one of the classes in leather work, wood-working, silver and sequins, while for the women there is knitting, crocheting, and dressmaking. It's a little world unto itself, healing men and women of a dread malady, restoring them once more to a world they love to live in, and restoring them as self-sufficient individuals already on their way to the acquisition of a new skill or craft, conditioned to support themselves through the less strenuous occupations.

The people of Norfolk County have responded generously each year to this humane program through the annual sale of Christmas Seals. This year, according to Miss Marian S. Nevins, executive secretary of the Norfolk County Health Association, the response to the Seal Sale to date has reached a total figure of $57,732.63, representing a gain of $752.91 over last year's figure of the same date.

All returns are not yet in, and the chairman of the county organization's 28 local committees urge contributors who have delayed in sending in their checks for the Seals to do so at an early date.

There are ten class rooms, two kindergartens, activities room with kitchen, administrative unit, health unit, auditorium, and playroom with shower and dressing room unit.

Storage space is ample, there being nine large rooms, each equipped with steel shelving. A folding metal gate is provided in the corridor on the ground floor so that by closing this gate the toilet rooms can be made available to the small play groups that congregate there during the summer without permitting them to enter other parts of the building.

The heating system is so arranged in zones that, when the auditorium or the playroom is being used out of school hours, the heat in the remaining portion of the building can be reduced.

In the selection of materials for the construction of the building, care has been taken as in the more recent school buildings constructed in Newton, to provide materials and surfaces that can be maintained at the least expense.

This building is scheduled for completion in the summer of 1950.

The Rev. Orrin L. Kosmo, minister of the Newton Centre Unitarian Church, and Dr. Herbert Hitchen of the West Newton church, who introduced Dr. Baker.

In addition to Dr. Baker's inspiring talk and ensuing discussion, there was an entertaining color sound movie, "The Story of the Boston Globe," showing how a metropolitan newspaper is produced, filmed by Harold Putnam, of the Boston Globe Veterans' Forum, and shown through the courtesy of the Globe's promotion department, with which William L. Tisdell, Laymen's League president, is associated.

The father-and-son buffet dinner was served by Miss Barbara Ballou, member of the W. Newton Unitarian Church, and manager of the Brittany Coffee Shop. Assisting Miss Ballou were Mrs. John E. Cox, Newtonville; Mrs. Kathryn M. Holgate and Miss Dorothy Mifflin, W. Newton; and Mrs. Wm. L. Tisdell, Auburndale.

The Party Line

Rumblings of political thunder are gradually drawing closer and a few contests for seats on the Board of Aldermen are beginning to be assured even though the city election won't be until November. It seems to be good policy to get into the swim early, thereby scaring off other hopefuls.

The latest news in the who-is-going-to-run department is that Robert E. Wambolt from Church-street in Ward 11 is about to make a bid for the seat now held by Arthur Scipione as Ward Alderman. Bob, as he is known, is a young man of 30, married, father of three children, a native Newtonian, and a product of our Newton schools. A newspaper man with the Herald-Traveler, he has been a leader in Scout work, youth work, and civic work of all kinds. Wambolt feels that the Newton City Government is getting above the level of the common man and that Ward 11 needs an alderman who does not easily forget those who elected him. He is definitely not a politician and has never been associated to any degree with anyone's campaign. Should his intentions be solidified into action within the next month or so, he will bear watching, and there are many of us who would not be at all surprised if Bob should be seen around City Hall every other Monday night. All of his many friends wish him luck.

As near as we can gather by keeping our ears open, there will be quite a few contests this year and this column will feel free to comment upon them from time to time. Incidentally, should any of our readers have any point of public interest which they wish to publicize, just drop a postcard or a letter in the mail and the Graphic will be glad to help you out. It is not the aim of the column, nor the intention of the writer to belittle anyone. However, let those who would disagree with opinions stated here, remember that a man is known by his performances.

Speaking of performances, Post 48 of the American Legion is putting on a Sports Night program this Thursday night that bids well to be the best to be put on in the city. E. Elmer Ross is the Commander of the Post this year and he has spared no effort to make the meetings many times more interesting than they ever have been.

It is refreshing to see a solid well established old organization like Post 48 thriving despite the competition from so many newer organizations. Commander Ross extends an invitation to all veterans to drop around to the War Memorial Building on any third Thursday of the month and see the American Legion at work.

Bank Insurance at All-Time High Mark

Total Savings Bank Life Insurance in force in Massachusetts has now reached an all-time high of $351,000,000, announced Joseph Earl Perry, president of the Savings Bank Life Insurance Council, following a meeting attended by officers of the 34 member savings banks.

Mr. Perry pointed out, "The increase of $26,000,000 over the amount of Savings Bank insurance in force a year ago reflects the growing popularity of this 'over-the-counter' kind of protection. Heads of families were primarily responsible for the growth plus an amazing increase in the number of 'no medical examination' policies taken out on children."

Supporters of March Of Dimes Thanked

Public support of the recent March of Dimes in Newton was praised highly today by Mr. Francis J. Murphy, local chairman of the 1949 Appeal of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"Residents of Newton," Mr. Murphy said, "may take just pride in their outstanding generous response to the 1949 March of Dimes. Fully aware of the urgent need for funds to carry on the fight against polio, our local people outdid all previous efforts to make this year's drive the success it had to be."

Mr. Murphy made known his heartfelt appreciation of the volunteer workers on March of Dimes committees in this area who spearheaded the drive, and expressed gratitude for the splendid co-operation of civic and fraternal organizations "whose members gave so willingly and unstintingly of their time and effort."

"I realize the difficulty of naming all groups and individuals entitled to praise," Mr. Murphy said.

"At the same time, I want everyone in Newton to accept my sincere thanks as a personal message. In so doing I speak not for myself alone, nor for my associates on our various March of Dimes committees. My expressions of appreciation are amplified thousands of times over by infantile paralysis patients here and elsewhere, who are being and will be aided because Newton residents strove so generously to make the 1949 March of Dimes the best on record."

Lying-in Hospital's Fund Progressing

Since the general campaign for Boston Lying-in Hospital's $400,000 fund opened two weeks ago, 18 subscriptions totaling $425 have been made throughout the extensive territory served by the hospital, Dr. M. Fletcher Eades and Dr. Herbert T. Leighton, co-chairmen for this community announced today. The standing of the fund has reached $331,299.

Spring Flower Show To Be Held March 13 To 19

Spring is less than a month away, no matter what the calendar says. On Sunday, March 13, the season of flowers and fragrance opens a one week preview at Mechanics Building, Boston, at the 78th annual New England Spring Flower Show of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society. Whatever the weather, Spring is certain to stay through Saturday, the 19th, too. Every day of the seven, she will be on parade in an Eden of more than 100 gardens and displays.

The springboard from which New England's multitude of gardeners launch themselves into the year's horticultural activities, the Show, which brings to them all that is new and good in gardening, is also the mecca of 150,000 ordinary people who throng the five halls of the Show to feed their winter-weary spirits on the lavish spectacle of warmth, color and glory. Grand Hall in 1949 will be filled with the glamor of thousands upon thousands of orchids, orchids not in pots but perched in their natural setting. In a tangle of tropical trees and plants, brought up specially from Florida, the great blooms will have a gorgeous setting of water tumbling down out of distant mountains over which a thunderstorm will rage, lightning and all, every now and then.

The famous Stone acaecias, trees laden with masses of gold sunburst, will be on display again and in other halls will be such things as a desert scene as the miners of 1849 saw it a century ago and a revolving display in which gardens as they grow in all four seasons will appear in turn. There will be spring gardens too, filled with a wealth of tulips, hyacinths, narcissus and the other bulbs while there will be gardens of primroses, wild flowers and, among many more, a ledge garden brimming with rare plants from the tops of mountains. One unusual feature will be a light-house keeper's garden complete with the lighthouse and the sand and sea. Other displays and gardens will feature: amaryllis, begonias, cinerarias, clivias, cyclamens, house plants, hydrangeas, lilies, fancy-leaved caladiums, roses and more orchids. Carnations will have a hall to themselves and there will be another famous display of great roses on six foot stems.

Edwin P. Leonard, III, son of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin P. Leonard, Jr., of Waverly ave., left Tuesday for the officer training school at Fort Dix.

Mrs. Morton C. Hartzell will present her paper on "Iceberg" at the meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning, Feb. 23, at the Hunnewell Club. The hostess will be Mrs. T. Edson Jewell, Jr. and Mrs. Warner Eustis.

Ann Scott of Park street, and Alice Finnegan of Summit street, students at the Bouve School, have returned from a stay at the Clarendon Inn, North Conway, N. H.

On February 16, Miss Jane MacDonald of 8 Olde road was capped at exercises held at the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital for the class of 1951. Miss MacDonald is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. MacDonald. This marks her successful completion of the first five months of the training course. Now she will take her place on the hospital wards actually caring for patients in addition to her classroom studies.

Boy Scouts-

In Norumbega Council as of December 31, 1948 was the greatest number in its history, proving that with a good program boys flock into its ranks eagerly.

George E. Cronin, Deputy Regional Executive, gave a very stimulating talk on the importance of cooperation and enthusiasm on the part of a Scout's parents in helping the Scout to get the most out of his Scouting experience. He stressed that boys learn more from example than preaching.

Mr. Cronin said it was a combination of many things that help the boy to be a good neighbor, possess a good character and a good citizen, a good Scout. It is not the church or school or home or Scouting alone—these alone are not enough for they are all necessary and the part parents contribute may make the difference in the life of our boy or the boy in our community.

Edward C. Michaud, president of Norumbega Council, brought the greetings and good wishes of the Council to the parents, boys and friends of Troop 5. He congratulated the Troop for its many years of service to Scouting; its leaders for their success in carrying through their program so enthusiastically. James D. Blackall, chairman of the Camp Quinapoxet for Norumbega Council, told of the record of advancement experienced by boys attending last summer's camp.

Dooryard Garden Accents Charm Of Small Home

SIMPLE BEDS and borders following the lines of the paths and building are best for front yard flowers.

Small houses, like small gardens, possess charm, a quality which seems to evade larger and more pretentious creations. And nothing will enhance the charm of a small modern home so much as a dooryard garden, gay with flowers.

While all flowers are beautiful, and any combinations of nature's colors will be harmonious, really stunning effects can be developed by planting colors which harmonize with the house and its trim. For a house of buff or and white flowers will provide a delightful foreground. In the illustration white and blue flowers are grown as borders to the path and along the foundation line of the house. No shrubs are used except small and these should be kept small by annual shearing. Of the flowers suggested, petunias should be started in a seed box. In the house, or in a hot-bed or cold frame, since ninety to one hundred days are required to produce flowering plants. Cynoglossum, the Chinese forget-me-not, and single asters will also bloom earlier, if given a start under protection before it is safe to move them to the garden. They can be sown outdoors, however, and will flower in sixty days. Sweet alyssum is easily grown from seed sown direct in the garden. A compact, dwarf variety should be used, and the plants will do better if thinned out to stand at least six inches apart. "leggy" and flowers to be fewer, they can be sheared like a hedge.

FRIENDLY THOUGHTS

A man's profound knowledge of life... its motives, its desires, its dissembling... comes from a study of himself. In examining another man he is likely to find his own faults or virtues, recognizing quickly that with which he has had a life-long acquaintanceship.

Tax Talks

MEDICAL EXPENSES. Medical expenses are deductible to the individual taxpayer to the extent of all cash expenditures in excess of 5 per cent of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income, computed without the deduction for medical expenses. In this category comes all amounts paid for the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body (including amounts paid for accident or health insurance). Payment must be made within the taxable year and often a taxpayer will find it to his advantage to borrow money in order to pay the bills when no other means are available.

The expenses paid must be for medical care of the taxpayer, his spouse or for a dependent. Where reimbursements from insurance or otherwise are received, the amount so received must be netted against the expense. If reimbursements are received in a later year and the expense has been claimed in a prior year, the amount of the reimbursement must be included in income.

Some of the expenses allowable as deductions under this section are hospital bills, nursing and nurse's board if paid by the taxpayer, medical, laboratory, surgical, dental or other diagnostic services; medical supplies including artificial teeth, limbs, etc., ambulances, or other travel expenses if for the purpose of prevention or alleviation of sickness of any kind.

LOSSES FROM FIRE, STORM, THEFT, OR CASUALTY. An individual taxpayer using the long form of return (1040) may deduct any losses arising from damages, not compensated for by insurance, incurred in a casualty whether or not business connected. For instance, damage to an automobile used by the taxpayer for pleasure and not due to his own negligence, is deductible. The measurement of the loss is the difference between the fair value of the car before the accident and that immediately following the accident. Generally the cost to repair the car is a fair measurement of the loss sustained and this usually is accepted by the Bureau.

A loss on the sale of a personal residence is not deductible, but a gain on such sale is taxable. If, however, property is rented, a loss on a sale is deductible and a gain on such sale is taxable. However, under a special section (117-J), a gain may be treated as a gain on a capital asset and if the property was held over six months only 50 per cent of the gain would be includable in income.

A loss from windstorm, ice storm, boiler explosion or other casualty is deductible, but damage done by termites is not deductible. A loss of a diamond ring through the negligence or carelessness of the taxpayer is not deductible. A loss by theft, if not compensated for, and if proven, is deductible. Losses from wagering transactions are allowed only to the extent of gains from such transactions.

OTHER DEDUCTIONS. An individual taxpayer may deduct under this category union dues, amounts expended for professional papers, or dues, alimony, fees paid to secure employment, work clothes not suitable or generally worn on the street, laundry, tools, or any expense incurred to produce income. It should again be noted that a taxpayer who elects to use the standard deductions, may not deduct such expenses to arrive at adjusted gross income. These are deemed to be included in the standard deduction allowed by law.

Ingrid Bergman, Brian Aherne In Play Over Radio

Ingrid Bergman co-stars with Brian Aherne in A Doll's House, Henrik Ibsen's great drama, to be broadcast this Friday evening over Station WNAC at 8 p. m.

Written over 70 years ago, A Doll's House is concerned with the rights and dignity of each individual. Nora (Ingrid Bergman) had no rights in the society of her time or in the eyes of her husband, Torvald (Brian Aherne). Because Torvald failed to give Nora the real respect of his confidence, secrecy and misunderstanding grew between them. Finally Nora rebelled and left Torvald, to return when... "we shall share this doll's house as equals and as a home; that here, our life together shall become a true marriage and communion."

The relationship of Nora and Torvald, beautifully interpreted by Ingrid Bergman and Brian Aherne, dramatizes the need both then and today—for following the true Christian foundation of marriage, because a couple who truly follow the promises of the Christian marriage ceremony find their way past many of the daily frustrations and misunderstandings to real and abiding happiness.

A Doll's House is the 21st in the series of challenging dramas on Great Scenes from Great Plays, sponsored weekly by families of the Protestant Episcopal Church and the Episcopal Actors Guild.

Hearty Breakfast Is Essential To Start Day Right

Let's protect our mornings with a good breakfast! Morning is the time of day when we're feeling at our best, all ready to pitch into some solid hours of work. A hearty breakfast keeps us up on our toes, skimping breakfast is likely to let us down right in the middle of the morning's activities.

What's happened to breakfast? This good meal, which used to have much of the heartiness of other meals of the day, has dwindled down to a mere shadow of its former self. After the body has been without food for twelve hours, it's logical that breakfast should be a hearty meal, too. It's logical, too, that 1/4 to 1/3 of the daily food requirements should be provided for by breakfast. This means a sufficient amount of protein, carbohydrates, fats, vitamins, and minerals.

Meat for breakfast supplies part of the protein which is needed daily — protein of the highest quality. It also provides vitamins, minerals and fat. Meat in the breakfast menu gives the same eating satisfaction that we find in the mid-day hamburger and the evening pot roast and it helps us to keep up our pep during the productive morning hours.

A well-planned breakfast starts with fruit. A tall glass of orange juice, that popular eye opener, provides the body with the Vitamin C needed for the whole day. Vitamin C is that important member of the vitamin clan which helps keep the teeth and gums healthy and builds resistance to fatigue and infection.

Next in the breakfast parade comes cereal, then a breakfast meat, such as bacon, ham, and sausage links or patties. Eggs go well with all of these meat items.

Babson Discusses Stocks

(EXCLUSIVE TO THE GRAPHIC)
Babson's Authentic Statement, Copyright 1948, Publishers' Financial Bureau, Incorporated

During the past few days I asked many investment bankers:—"In view of the business and market uncertainties, what are the safest stocks to hold?" The general answer was that the stocks of the operating utility companies offer the best combination of safety and income.

Total kilowatt hour output of the utilities will decline with general business, but this decline will be from industrial customers. As many electric companies are now short of generating capacity, and cannot take on many new residential customers, this could be a blessing in disguise. Residential customers are much more profitable than large industrial customers. Therefore, by switching customers, the total output could decline without a decline in profits.

Electric companies have very few labor troubles. In the case of water power companies, the labor expense is only 20 percent, compared with 80 percent in the printing industry. The labor expense for the entire electrical industry is low—equalled only by the chemical industry. Therefore, it has little to fear from the much-talked-of "fourth round" of wage increases.

The electrical industry is a large purchaser of supplies, including millions of miles of copper wire, millions of poles, arms, and insulators, thousands of trucks, as well as great quantities of coal. Although there may be some further price increases on some of these products, yet the corner has turned downward on the average. This should benefit the utilities so long as we avoid war with Russia or the Chinese Communists.

The only "nigger in the woodpile" is the attitude of utility commissions regarding rates. Many utility companies are in need of higher rates, especially street railway and bus companies which have large labor expense. As, however, these rate-making bodies clearly understand that to take care of their customers the utilities must have more capital, and in order to raise more capital must give investors a reasonable dividend, they should gladly grant these needed rate increases.

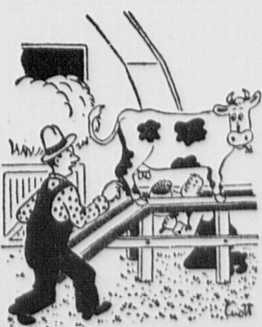

Utilities of operating companies can be recommended for safety and for income, but they should not be selected as hedges against inflation. If considering only the cost of replacement, stocks of utility operating companies should be worth double what they were ten years ago provided they cannot be caught by the "Depreciation Formula". The fact, however, that utilities are not free to raise their rates without special permission is a distant handicap. Hence, for inflation hedges it is better to buy steel, oil or merchandising stocks. A live merchant can always keep one jump ahead of inflation.

It is wise to confine one's purchase of electric company stocks to the territory in which you live. You, yourself, should know the attitude of your public authorities on this rate-making problem; it is reflected by your local newspapers. If you believe that your public service commission is fair, then buy the stock of the company supplying your home with electricity; but not otherwise.

Of course, you should not put all of your eggs in any one basket, however good that basket may be. This means that one should not have more than 20 percent of his funds in public utilities, and not more than 5 percent in any one company. An investor should have his funds divided amongst different industries, different companies and different sections. As a final thought, I urge you to avoid utilities in big cities that might be bombed in case of World War III.

Word comes from House in the Pines at Norton that Miss Hortense Lovejoy, daughter of Mrs. George M. Lovejoy of 10 Estabrook road, West Newton, has been elected a member of the Riding Club.

SYNOPSIS OF THE LAW

Libel and Slander

By Arthur W. Blakemore, Attorney

(The right to print, or reprint, any or all of these articles, is prohibited without permission of the author)

The law defends the reputation of all from false attack. The difference between libel and slander is that libel is written in some form while slander is oral. Any publication is defamatory which tends to injure one's reputation in the community and to expose him to hatred, contempt or ridicule.

"It is settled that words spoken orally are not actionable per se, unless they charge the plaintiff with a crime, or state that he is suffering from certain disease, or prejudice him in his office, profession or business or may probably tend to do so." In libel defamatory words may be libelous per se even though they do not charge the plaintiff with a crime.

Truth is a complete defense to an action for slander but malice deprives the defendant of the defense of truth in case of libel. An action will not lie for libel of a dead man or the injured feelings of his family. So a false statement that the plaintiff's husband committed suicide and left a widow does not constitute a libel on the widow.

Even a statement that plaintiff was acquitted of larceny may be actionable.

Newton Y Wins Two, Loses Two at Chess

In Class "A" Boylston defeated the Intruders "Y" five to nothing.

In Class "B" Commonwealth "Y" defeated Harvard University three and one-half to one and a half. Gambiters "Y" defeated Harvard Club II three and one-half to one and one-half. Brattle Club defeated Fighting Knights "Y" three to two.

Capt. Lyman of Boylston defeated Capt. Russell F. Weaver Adams, United States Open champion, defeated John Hubert of Intruders "Y". Milton Kagan, former Mass. State champion of Boylston, defeated Lester Gee.

It is only fair to state that none of the players on the Boylston team were their regular "A" players. The regular players are suffering from Gillsitis and have forfeited their last two matches. Hence these Masters and Near Masters were coraled to entertain the Newton "Y" "A" team. The kibitzing was of rare quality, friendly and enlivening throughout. The matches were vigorously contested and much more even than the score would indicate. One match threatened to last till daylight.

Roy Cowe of Gambiters defeated Glynn. Ingraham of Harvard Club defeated Capt. Howard Forbes. David Grey of Gambiters drew with Capt. Nash. Warren Blaisdell of Gambiters defeated Sprague. Kenneth Boegner of Gambiters defeated Howe.

Capt. Vincent Hoagland of Fighting Knights won by default but later in the evening defeated Frazier of Brattle Club, whom he would have played if Frazier had been on time. Richards of Brattle defeated George Payne.

Burl Ives to Be at Wellesley March 2

Wednesday, March 2, at Alumnae Hall, the Wellesley Concert Series will offer its patrons a delightful novelty. Burl Ives, one of the foremost figures in the current revival of folk-song, will give a program of American ballads which are part of our folk tradition. Ives is most qualified to share in this valuable recovery of Old America as he comes from pioneer stock and the folksongs and ballads he sings he first heard from his grandmother, a wonderful character to whom he pays tribute in his recent autobiography.

In his wanderings through the country, he has gathered many other songs and the charm of his personality enables him to reproduce their elusive spirit and particular atmosphere for concert audiences in even such large auditoriums as Constitution Hall.

His program at Wellesley College will include many varieties of ballads, among them such favorites as "Little Mohee" and "Lord Randall." An evening of rare pleasure awaits all the Wellesley concert-goers when they can hear Burl Ives, the star of radio, stage and motion pictures, "in person."

Wednesday, that the roster had increased 17 per cent, that its ministers, Rev. Leslie Johnson and Rev. Frederic Groetsma, had led the club in the support of churches and their spiritual aims and that a majority of Newton Kiwanians were taking a major part in civic affairs.

Newton Kiwanis, he continued, had celebrated the birthdays of 69 juvenile patients at the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children, with birthday cakes, candles, presents, entertainment, music and songs. A six room "home," furnished by Newton Kiwanis and built to scale by Kiwanian William Hahn, a well known Newton Centre druggist, was also given to the little patients, so that most of them with a hospital ward their only knowledge of home, might see, at first hand, what will be theirs again some day.

Donations to hospitals, the needy, Thanksgiving Day dinners, the milk and underprivileged child funds, were also listed by Secretary Van Buskirk. As it the policy of Kiwanis International's 2900 clubs in the United States and Canada, the Newton Kiwanis Club visited with every Kiwanis Club in its own 5th District and in the New England states.

Harry S. Coles Cited For 50 Years of Loyal Service

Harry S. Coles, of 19 Hawthorne place, Auburndale, was cited recently for his 50 years of loyal service with Felton and Son, Inc., of South Boston, one of the oldest distilleries in the country.

Mr. Coles, who is vice president and general manager of Felton and Son, Inc., was presented with a gift on behalf of the company by Frederic L. Felton, president, and was praised for his contribution to the firm.

In 1899 Mr. Coles joined Felton and Son, Inc., as a clerk. He was later promoted to bookkeeper, then rose to secretary. He has served in his present capacity since 1934.

"My 50 years with Felton and Son, Inc., have taught me more than the distillery business," Mr. Coles mused. "In my long career in the business I have met many people of every race and religion, and have learned great lessons in human nature."

Water Colors By Katrine Amory Hooper at the Clairhorne Galleries

Katrine Amory Hooper opened her second exhibition at the Clairhorne Galleries on Monday with a private view and sherry party which was well attended. This year Mrs. Hooper is showing only water colors, a medium which most artists admit is the most difficult to work in. Mrs. Hooper works in the clear aquarelle, vivid, atmospheric and brilliant. Each brush stroke is carefully thought out, each placed with a nicety of composition, balance and color. There is no fussy retouching in her work—she works directly from nature and there is no feeling of studio drawing in her pictures—one knows that she puts down the scene as it is—forcefully sometimes, but always exactly as she interprets it.

The phrase "modern art" has come to cover a multitude of sins. One feels sometimes that it covers deficiencies in drawing technique and knowledge. However, given a firm technical foundation, an artist is safe in venturing into the field of modernism. Thus with Mrs. Hooper. She is certain of what she is doing. She is aware of the skeleton before she fills it in, and it is apparent from her work that she has already formed the entire composition in her mind before she touches her brush. That is the test of modernity, that the brush takes up where the camera leaves off, and brings to the observer not the lineal outline, but the mood, the time, the character of the subject.

With one or two exceptions, Mrs. Hooper has painted in Maine and New Hampshire. Of particular interest is her impression of Jan Veen, the dancer, taking a sunbath on a raft of logs. Here the figure is incidental to the composition, but the horizontal lines of the log raft bring a superb counterbalance to the composition. Quite aptly, Mrs. Hooper has entitled it "St. Laurence on His Grid-iron." Her rich rendering of the Castle of Chillon in Switzerland is also worthy of commendation. The angular lines of the castle's roof are eye-provoking.

The exhibition is open to the public and will continue until March 5th.

Appreciate Scout Workers

Boy Scout Week, which was observed this month marked the thirty-ninth birthday of the organization in the United States.

There can be little doubt of the possibilities for self development which are presented to boys who join the troops of this organization. Like everything else, however, the strength of the work in any given area depends upon the adult leaders in charge of it.

This moves us to observe that, in Newton, we should appreciate the contribution of time and effort that is being made by the scoutmasters of local troops. Men who give unselfishly of their time and talent to promote scouting are contributing themselves to the development of our boys. They deserve the thanks and appreciation of us all and some recognition of the contribution that they are making to the community.

The same is equally true of the work that many splendid women are doing for the Girl Scout movement in Newton.

Both are contributing greatly to the worthwhile endeavors of our youth.

Be Honest About Taxes

Society, as we know it, could not be perpetuated without government. Whether it is the best, the best possible, or only fair, the continuance of peaceful lives, the carrying on of farming, business and commerce, or any of the hundred and one necessary modern activities, require law and order, established processes, protective safeguards and the co-operation which is only possible through government.

Regardless of some waste, and waste can't be entirely avoided, the average citizen gets more for his dollars paid in taxes than for any other expenditure he makes. The average family head doesn't pay as much taxes as his children cost the government for their education, if he has a moderate-sized family. All the rest of the benefits from government he receives, over and beyond that!

Governments can't operate without some money and taxes are necessary. Every citizen should be willing to pay his proportionate share of the common cost of these beneficial services. The growing disposition on the part of many to "beat taxes" should be frowned upon. It is a little hard to grasp how an otherwise honest, upright man can defend in his conscience, for example, a successful subterfuge, or deceit, to cheat the government out of income, or other taxes.

On the other hand, every effort should be made by tax officials to equalize taxes. Every citizen is entitled to fair treatment and should not be called on to pay proportionately more or less than his neighbors do. Yet, the task of perfect equalization is difficult, just as hard to maintain after its accomplishment, in view of the changing factors involved.

Notwithstanding the many centuries during which various governments have collected taxes, the problem still calls for the thought and effort of good citizens.

Burke Outstanding In B.C. Win Over Dartmouth

CAPT. BERNARD BURKE

Capt. Bernie Burke of Boston College's sextet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard M. Burke, 29 Richmond Road, Newton, played an outstanding hockey game this week against Dartmouth, although he was beaten four times in 23 chances.

Burke was sick with the grip. His illness, plus pre-game excitement, burdened him with fever, but the veteran Eagle goalie insisted on playing.

The press and the capacity crowd of 5973 did not know of Burke's sickness until after the B. C. victory. And they certainly could not guess it from his work in the nets.

Every one of the Green's tallies resulted from break-aways or close-up shots on which Burke had no chance. While he had only 19 saves, compared to 31 stops for Dick Desmond of Dartmouth.

Memories of the Old Days

By Albert S. Partridge

The boys today have quite a different time from what we did in the old days. But I would not change their fun, even if I could. There were no trolley cars or buses then in Newton, no automobiles and no movies, so we were obliged to make our own sort of amusement. As it is now the winter season, let's see what we boys of Newton Corner used to be doing at this time of year. Maybe the climate and seasons have changed and are not as rugged as of yore, or perhaps there may be some truth in the theory that we were young and impressionable then. At any rate, winter for us seemed to begin at Thanksgiving and from then till March we had plenty of snow on the ground during all that time, and plenty of ice on the ponds.

As sleighing was the mode of transportation, hard packed snow was always on the streets. One pastime was to go "punging". That meant snatching rides on the delivery puns of the local stores, by sitting and hanging on the side boards, riding first one direction and then the other, up and down Centre and the cross streets. Some drivers were more friendly than others, and one of them who always let us ride was Al Reece, who still lives in Newton Corner and is as young as ever in spirit. As evidence that age is not a matter of years, I saw him at a recent Soap Box Derby at Suffolk Downs. We also tried hooking rides on the rear projecting runners of private sleighs, but this was rarely successful for as soon as we jumped on, the occupant would generally see us and pass the word to the liveried coachman. He would swing his long whip in our direction, and as we did not relish the sting of the lash, why of course we jumped off, and waited for the next venture.

There were several ponds where we skated, according to the condition of the ice. When a snow fall covered the ice, we used our own shovels and brooms to clear the needed surface. We skated on Boyd's Pond, now Boyd Park, or Morse's Pond just below it in Watertown. Both of these ponds were fed by Laundry Brook, the outlet of Buloughs Pond, and I shall have more to say about that brook in a later article. More often our gang of small boys, who lived on the south side of the railroad, did our skating at Farlow Park, Edmonds Pond, Hyde Park, or at Strong's and Chandler's, or at Strong's Pond on Kenrick Street, now filled in and part of the Commonwealth Golf Course, was larger, as was also Chandler's just below it extending to Lake Street. Our hockey games at Strong's were exciting, especially when we were pitted against Brighton boys. Their hockey sticks were often home-made from tree limbs, with large knots for the hooks, and were to us when they swung at the puck, and their sticks made a wide circle like a golfer following through his stroke. But we survived and returned each day for more. In a deep ravine between Hyde Avenue and Park Street was Hyde Pond, which was not very large, and today is non-existent except for a small brook. But we had plenty of room there for our gang to skate and play hockey. When there was clear but fairly thin ice, it was here at Hyde's that we first learned to "run tiddies". The correct spelling of this term caused me some dismay at first as it could not be found in the dictionaries, but with the aid of personnel at the Reference Room of the Public Library, it was located in a Dictionary of Slang, with the explanation it meant to "run over unsafe ice". The ice would bend under our weight, and the sensation was wonderful, like going up and down over waves. As speed was the essence of this accomplishment, it was always done on skates, but once in a while one of us paid the penalty of a dare, and got a ducking. Then we had to get dried off at some boy's house before returning home. When thick ice began to break up during a warm spell of weather, we would step or jump from cake to cake, and of course again were flirting with possible disaster.

Some years ago this paper ran a weekly column titled "ONE THING AND ANOTHER" by L. D. G. Bentley, and in one of the Graphics of February 1939, Leverett had something to say of "Coasting in the Old Days". His story brought replies from Clarence V. Moore and from the present writer, and Leverett passed them on to the readers of his column. As these two articles give a good idea of our coasting activities when we were young and during later High School Days, I take the liberty of quoting them here verbatim.

"Your coasting reminiscences in the Graphic bring to mind similar experiences of mine in the late 80's and early 90's" writes A. S. P.

"My greatest joy was going to Church st. with my older brother and his chums in the afternoon or early evening, and being allowed to ride with them on their double runners. 'We started at the head of Church st. or up around the corner on Waverly ave. After the double was packed with boys and girls, the steerer would call out, 'Where is my headlight?' which meant the small kid, who would go and sit on the cross-bar between his legs and arms. These coasters were thrillers to me, though I did have to cut the wind for the rest of the bunch and my eyes watered copiously as we got our speed. We seldom failed to reach Eliot Church or Centre st., and sometimes made the Baptist Church, and one day we turned into Maple ave."

"One reason we went so far was that considerable time was spent fixing the ice on the hill. This was done by getting pail after pail of water from Billings pond and pouring it over the ice where needed to keep the ruts in good condition. 'The coasting on double runners in those days was, almost a major sport. I only remember one bad accident during those years.

The advance of winter hasn't lessened interest in the "Coasting in the Old Days" symposium which this column has been privileged to offer. Here's one from Mr. Clarence V. Moore of Newton:

"Dear Leverett—In reference to your recent comment in regard to coasting on Church st., Newton, in the old days, I believe that my double-runner with eight aboard is the only one which ever made the run from 50 yards up on Waverly ave. and down Church st. across Park, Edmonds and Centre sts. to Maple ave. and down Maple ave. to its up grade. This trip was made three times on a Friday evening in 1896 after rain had fallen and frozen on a well-trod snowy road. 'I could name four or five of those who rode that night who are still local residents. We literally held our breath and sat still till the sleds had gone over the cross walk."

"The swiftest ride, however, was on the north slope of Waban Hill from a point near the Newton reservoir, down toward the ice company tower and a left swing onto and across Strong's Pond where the golf links are now located. So fast was the slide over ice and frozen snow that four at a time was all we dared to carry because of the momentum. Two Brookline young ladies were allowed as passengers on one trip, and, having caught their breath when the coast reached the smooth pond, exclaimed, 'My! Talk about being shot through R. H. White's pneumatic tubes!' The reference was to the old style air-suction tubes from counters to the cashier."

"You are right when you say that the present generation knows nothing of the sport carried on prior to 1900 B. A. (Before Automobiles)."

Throwing snowballs was then, and still is, a major winter pastime. Generally speaking it was a harmless bit of fun and one way of getting rid of pent up energy, especially after the school sessions. A great many men in the old days wore silk hats every day, as part of the customary business dress. These tall toppers made wonderful targets for a snowball, but when making the throw we would cautiously place ourselves behind the wooden fences which then surrounded every house. I find myself today occasionally joining in the fun and retaliating at the youngsters when I hear a snowball whiz by my ear.

When snow was abundant we built forts, but I have not happened to see similar affairs in the passing years. They were made about six feet square, and over our heads in height, with a peep hole in each side and a small entrance in the rear. Recesses were dug on the inside walls to hold our supply of snowballs, and a pole with flag erected inside. We all helped in building the fortress, and then chose two sides—the "white men" to defend the fort, and the "Indians" to make the attack. I especially remember one fort we built on the then vacant land which is now Buswell Park, off Centre Street. The afternoon before the scheduled assault the "White Men" of which I was one, surreptitiously made our snowballs and placed them in the fort where they could to say our side was the victor, when the fight was over, due per-

By PATRICIA PATENAUE

February is going out in a wonder of sunny days and spring breezes. Not many winter winds have knocked at our doors and it seems like Spring Fever is not far off. To give your home a little cheer here's a suggestion. Cut some forsythia from your bush, place it in a warm dark place in your home, and in ten days you will have a galaxy of lovely yellow flowers. It's always nice to have a preview of Spring in your home and a bowl of forsythia will brighten up any room. I've tried some already and it came out beautifully. In the meantime let's see how the shops in Newton are faring. There are some good buys in town and you won't want to miss them.

On the 48 Hour Week

To the Editor:

At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen, tangible evidence was presented to show some of the effects which the 48-hour week for firemen will have on city administration and the tax rate.

Requests were received to increase the number of privates in the fire department from 129 to 169, and the number of lieutenants from 18 to 31.

It was also amazing to learn that instead of eight-hour shifts for six days a week, which many assumed the 48-hour week would represent, the fire department has adopted shifts as follows:

Two 14-hour shifts (including some sleeping time).

Two 10-hour shifts making 48 hours on the job and 120 hours free time each week.

I seriously question of the citizens who voted for the 48-hour week (or certain ministers who signed the petition without investigating the facts) ever intended to endorse such a plan.

It may be recalled that a special aldermanic committee estimated that the 48-hour week will result in an increase of about $1.30 per $1000 assessed value in the tax rate without in any way increasing the fire protection to the city.

It seems to me that the net result has been to make the softest jobs in the city softer at the expense of the taxpayers.

I believe the citizens ought to be fully informed of this situation and the effect it is bound to have on the morals of other city workers.

ELECTRICITY

...except
quantities

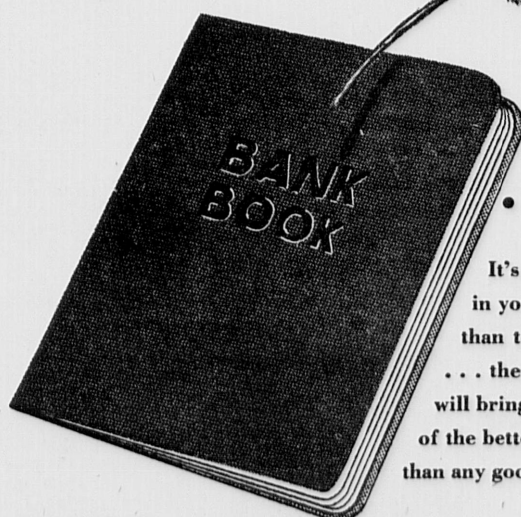

There's no way to store up a big quantity of electricity in advance to meet the peak demands of the "rush hours". Electricity has to be made the very instant you flip a switch to turn it on — any second of the day or night. This means that generating capacity must be kept ahead of the maximum demand at all times. There you have a basic reason for the million kilowatt construction program now being carried out by your electric companies here in New England — a program to provide New England with the facilities to produce four million kilowatts of electrical energy by 1952.

Volunteer Workers Campaign Need

An appeal for volunteer workers to aid the Children's Medical Center Campaign, opening March 22, was made last week before the Community Service Club in the Second Church, West Newton, by Dr. Henry W. Hudson of Waban.

"Good child health is everybody's business," Dr. Hudson told the gathering. "The Boston Children's Hospital has outgrown its present facilities and expansion of its Children's Medical Center with modern, adequate facilities must be achieved if the health of our future citizens is to be properly safeguarded."

Dr. Hudson pointed out that the hospital's pathology department provided consultative advice to doctors and hospitals in 18 foreign countries and 41 states during the last two years. Its blood grouping laboratory, he said, made tests for or answered queries from 36 foreign countries and 47 states in that same period.

"The outpatient clinics at Children's Hospital handle as many as 75,000 patient visits annually," he continued. "About 5000 bed patients are cared for a year and still there isn't room for all who seek admission to the institution."

"Sick children from all over the world look to this Boston hospital for help, but by far the greatest number of its patients come right from our section of Massachusetts. That's why it is important that a modern Children's Medical Center be erected to meet these needs."

The women components of the new peace-time Army will have more attractive, more stylish, and better fitting uniforms designed by the Quartermaster Corps.

Model Girl Scout Uniforms of Yesterday, Today at Waban

CULMINATION OF GIRL SCOUT WAY in Waban came when Mrs. John Bailey, dressed in her leader's uniform of 20 years ago, drew names for door prizes from a basket held by Peggy Booth of Troop 14, who modeled the Girl Scout uniform 20 years ago. Seated in the foreground are Marcia Hervey in a Brownie uniform of the 1930's and Judith Prien in the Brownie uniform of today. Standing, left to right, are Sarah Jones; Mrs. Harry Shain, a leader of today; Peggy Booth; Mrs. John Bailey, founder of Girl Scouts in Waban, and their first Captain, and Mrs. Matt Jones, present Village Chairman.

Waban was a busy village last Friday when everyone helped the Girl Scouts celebrate "Waban Day" with a salad bridge, a food sale, a puppet show for the school children and a square dance in the evening. The events were held in order to help raise funds for the village scouting program.

Over 300 persons attended the two bridge parties, one in the Union Church and another in the Church of the Good Shepherd. Girl Scouts from Winchester presented a puppet show for the children at the Angier School. The day was brought to a close with a square dance in Saint Philip Neri Church attended by more than 200 adults and students.

Several Girl Scouts modeled uniforms of yesterday and today. The models were Peggy Booth, who wore the brown uniform of Girl Scouts of 20 years ago; Marcia Hervey wearing the Brownie uniform of the same period; Judith Prien in the Brownie uniform of today, and Charlotte Ray wearing the Girl Scout uniform of today. The uniform of the leader of 20 years ago was worn by Mrs. John E. Bailey.

It Adds a Hundred Miles to the Day!

White sidewall tires available at additional cost.

Owners of the 1949 Cadillac are going to get a pleasant surprise when they take it out for that first cross-country run. Without any extra effort whatsoever, they are going to wind up that first day's touring about a hundred miles, farther from home than they expected to be! For here, beyond any doubt, is the greatest "mile-eater" that ever rolled over a highway. We are not talking about excessive speed—because, regardless of the power they have at their command, sensible people observe the laws of the road and the rules of safety. But the 1949 Cadillac is so cat-quick and eager—so smooth and easy and effortless—that it covers an amazing amount of distance inside the safe and legal limits. You take the hills as fast as the level stretches—you make the first hundred yards away from a stop light as fast as you make the second hundred—and the car's matchless agility enables you to avoid many of the pockets in slow-moving traffic. The secret, of course, is found in the great new Cadillac V-type engine—plus the marvelous new engineering in the Cadillac chassis. Actually, you almost seem to move by automatic propulsion. There is no performance like it—anywhere in the world.
